

VIII

Today I Learned

The "Scavenger's Daughter," a torture device from the Tudor era.

Louis Armstrong's mastery of the trumpet caused callouses on his lips -

-which he cut off with a razor periodically...

"There's only one rule that I know of, babies: 'God damn it, you've got to be kind.'"

-Kurt Vonnegut

Thomas Vose, 6/8/2021

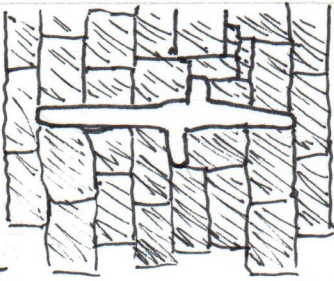

Miss Muffet's "curds and whey" are basically the same thing as:

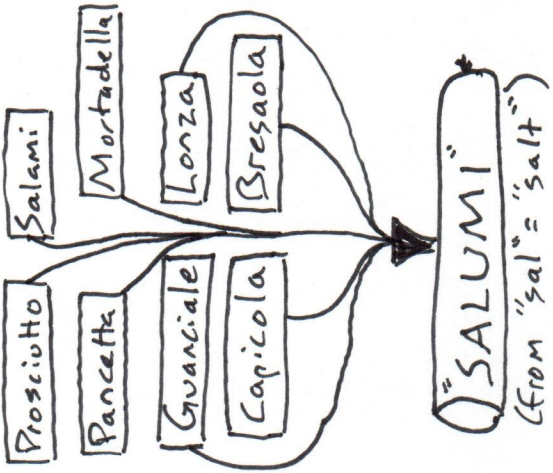

The word "loophole"

comes from slits in castle walls through which arrows could be fired.

(A small person might be able to squeeze through).

All of these are collectively referred to as:

A buried

such as a log can be used as an anchor that

